● WHY THIS PROJECT ?

• Objectives

To identify S&T international cooperation activities and programmes in the Pacific region.

PACE-Net sets up dialogue for bringing relevant S&T experts and stakeholders together to establish priority areas for SICa and the Cooperation programme of FP7.

To reinforce existing S&T dialogues and networks, and to promote regional integration.

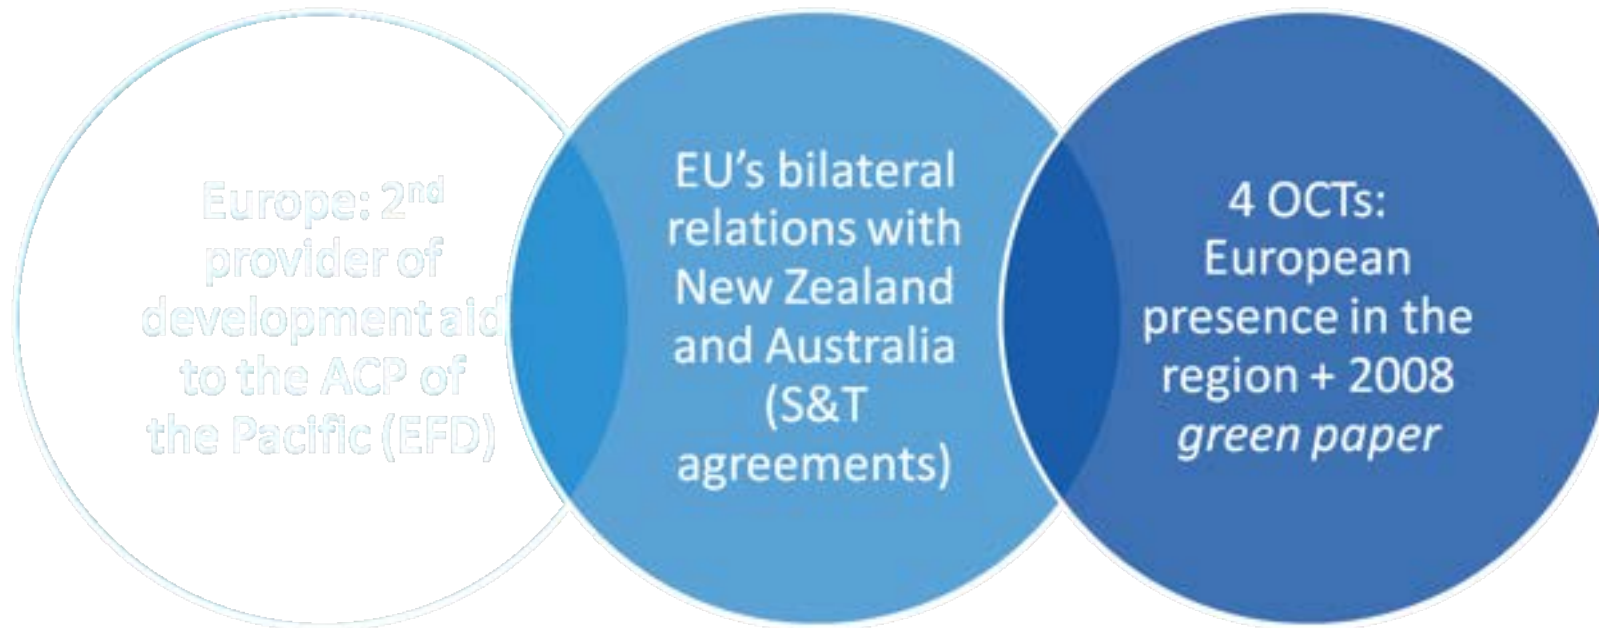

PACE-Net seeks to increase cooperation between research organisations and universities in the OCTs and other countries in the Pacific.

To strengthen the coordination of S&T cooperation and the complementarities with activities and programs carried out by other European instruments.

PACE-Net examines possible synergies or complementarities with European instruments, such as synergies with the European Development Fund to address challenges faced by developing countries.
